

GOOD CHARACTER OF M. DU BREUIL

Letters Read Before the Courtmartial.

DONE IN ACCORDANCE OF ORDER OF PRES JOUAUST.

Witness is the Same One Who Testified a Week Ago That Dreyfus Had Treasonable Relations With a German Officer—Reiterated Statement Which He Stated Could Be Ratified—Accused Rose and Indignantly Denied the Accusation—Kullman Offers Testimony Favorable to the Accused.

Rennes, Sept. 1.—[Special].—A number of minor witnesses were heard at today's session of the Dreyfus court-martial who testified for and against the accused. By order of President Jouaust, numerous letters were read before the court testifying to the good character of M. Du Breuil, who testified a week ago that Capt. Dreyfus had treasonable relations with a German officer at the house of a woman named Bodson. Du Breuil then reiterated his testimony regarding Dreyfus' relations with the Bodsons and said that it could be ratified by their former valet, De Chambre.

Dreyfus Denies Meeting Officers. Dreyfus rose and indignantly denied ever meeting foreigners at Bodson's. A hostler named Georges then testified to having seen Dreyfus at Mulhouse in '96, attending the German manoeuvres on horseback, in company with a German named Kullman. Captain Kullman was next called and denied having ridden with Dreyfus to see the German manoeuvres. Major Lemonnier, who was second in the bureau with Dreyfus, testified that they all knew that the accused was not going to the manoeuvres in '94; therefore it was impossible that he would have written the last line of the bordereau: "I am just leaving for the manoeuvres."

Germany Knew About Break. A few more unimportant witnesses were heard. Maj. Hartman then took the stand and testified that the documents cited in the bordereau were without value and offered to prove that Germany knew about the break in '90. The witness' testimony was not finished when court adjourned for the day.

Verdict May Be Given Thursday. Paris, Sept. 1.—A dispatch to the Figaro from Rennes says Col. Jouaust is determined to shorten further evidence before the court-martial. Although the great church was begun more than 500 years ago, the spire was not completed until 1890.

Case of Cruelty. A little girl whose acquaintance with the zoological wonders of creation was limited was looking at one of the elephants in Lincoln park, Chicago, while on her first visit to that popular resort. Observing that the animal stood motionless near a watering-trough, she said: "Poor thing! Why don't they lift up their trunk and fasten it back so he can drink?"

There is an understanding between this combine and the combine of the river coal interests of the Pittsburg district so that neither will encroach upon the territory of the other, thus putting the Pittsburg district, with output of 22,918,804 tons of coal last year, in the hands of the two great concerns.

DR. WINGATE WILL INVESTIGATE SILOS

TO DETERMINE THE CAUSE OF WAUSAU FATALITY.

Frank Coy of Lena, Shot in His Door Yard By Parties Unknown, Who Had Visited His Premises—Broncho at Racine Performs a Remarkable Feat—State News.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 1.—The suffocation of three men in a silo at the Marathon county insane asylum has raised a question as to the safety of these contrivances, which hitherto have been supposed to offer no such danger. Dr. U. O. B. Wingate of the state board of health, says that he will write to the local board at Wausau, in whose jurisdiction the case comes, and have an investigation of the silo made in order to ascertain whether there is always a danger in their operation or whether the accident was due to some local condition which would not apply to silos in general. The introduction and use of silos throughout the state has been quite general, so that the result of the investigation will be of considerable interest.

"It is my opinion," said Dr. Wingate last evening, "that the suffocation of the three inmates of the asylum was one of those accidents which occasionally happen, but which are so infrequent as to give no reason for alarm in the general use of silos. However, I shall have the board at Wausau look into the case to see whether there was something faulty in the construction or operation of this particular silo. I hardly think that the result of the investigation will show that the use of silos is as a rule dangerous, this case being a rare exception."

Pretoria, South Africa, Sept. 1.—The reply of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain to the Transvaal's latest proposals practically amounts to an ultimatum, since its alternative proposal is almost sure to be unacceptable.

Mr. Chamberlain declines to abrogate the British claim of suzerainty over the republic, and suggests a second conference between President Kruger and British High Commissioner Sir Alfred Milner. It is proposed that the conference take place at Cape Town.

There is now no disguising the gravity of the situation, for the British reply admits no question as to Great Britain's continued exercise of the rights of suzerain, and the Boers, if they go into a new conference with a view of conceding the British demands, by that very fact divest themselves of their claim to an acceptable quid pro quo. This is not believed they will so much as think of doing.

Boer Women Are Warlike. Johannesburg, Sept. 1.—The Standard and Digges' News of Johannesburg describes the Boer women as very warlike. That Game of Golf. Last Saturday a man missed a drive at golf and smashed the young lady who stood behind him in the mouth and knocked out all her front teeth; and then when she was being rapidly driven to the doctor's by another man, the horse ran away and upset her and broke the man's leg and severely injured her besides, as an Irishman would say. "Happening on Saturday as it did, this has nothing to do with the great Sunday golf question now raging in Boston. It does prove, however, in a showy and dramatic way, what true golfers have always contended, the importance of learning to hit the ball."

ARE FIRE BUSS AT WORK NEAR CLINTON

Self Feeding Apparatus Destroyed—Another Machine Found Filled With Stone and Old Iron—Certain Persons Suspected—Several Similar Cases—An Enmity Exists.

Clinton, Sept. 1.—The new threshing separator recently purchased by Probst and Kelly south of town was discovered to be on fire early Monday morning and before the flames were extinguished the self feeding apparatus was destroyed. But for the timely arrival of the engineer who got up earlier than usual to start a fire in the engine, the entire machine would have been consumed, and the four buildings would probably have caught on fire also. Another machine in the neighborhood was found to have been filled the same night with stone and old iron but this was discovered and removed before starting up. The fire was without doubt the work of an incendiary and certain persons are suspected of doing the deed but it is not probable that the guilty parties will be brought to justice. Within the past few years several machines have been destroyed or badly damaged in this locality and a strong feeling of enmity has long been known to exist. NURSERYMEN, TAKE NOTICE!

Stock Shipped to Illinois or Iowa Must First Be Inspected.

The laws of Illinois and Iowa prohibit the importation of any nursery stock from other states that has not been inspected by a legally authorized inspector, and certified to be apparently free from the San Jose scale or other dangerously injurious insect or plant disease. An inspector is now at work inspecting nurseries in Wisconsin, in accordance with the law passed by our last legislature, and any nurseryman in this vicinity who desires to have his stock and premises inspected should apply to the Agricultural Experiment Station at once for this purpose. The cost of such inspection will be five dollars ($5.00) for each ten acres of nursery or fraction thereof, and not more than this, if the work is performed by the state inspector before September 15 next.

COLORED ARTISTS DO WELL

"The Hottest Coon in Dixie" Will Be One of the Season's Successes.

One of the best musical attractions that was ever seen in Janesville held the boards at the Myers Grand last evening—Phil R. Miller's "The Hottest Coon in Dixie." Not only are the performers of unusual ability, but the numbers were all selected with especial reference to adaptability. Encores followed every solo, chorus and quartette, and the audience was enthusiastic in an unusual degree. The chorus was especially fine, and the male quartette could scarcely be better.

The play affords a vehicle for the specialties, and musicians, comedians and dancers held full sway. Notwithstanding the fact that it was the first appearance of the company, and before a beggarly audience owing to the heat, the production went off without a hitch, and from the rise of the curtain at 8:15 until 11 o'clock, our continual round of melody and fun kept a delighted audience in good humor.

Miss Nellie G. Hawkins, the soprano, has a splendid voice—in fact, it is said by competent critics, that her superior has never been heard in this city, although Janesville people have heard the leading sopranos of the country in both opera and concert.

Personal mention, however, requires going through the whole cast of character, for there was not a poor performer, or a dull moment, in the whole evening.

Mr. Miller has a good thing in his play, and there is every assurance that "The Hottest Coon in Dixie" will be one of the popular successes of the season.

A LONE LITTLE ISLAND.

Santa Catalina, a Feudal Possession of Modern Money Barons.

BY MARY E. LEONARD.

One of the unconsidered and unknown bits of Uncle Sam's territory is Santa Catalina Island. It lies 30 miles off the coast of southern California and is therefore well out on the high seas. There are several interesting facts about Santa Catalina, but the most notable one is that, for all practical purposes, it is a separate and distinct little province, being as little under control of the state or federal government as if it were the estate of a feudal lord of the middle ages. A private corporation owns the island and administers its affairs in the most autocratic way imaginable.

This condition of things is owing to an unsettled question of sovereignty between the state and the nation. Were it larger or more valuable the question of its title long ago would have been a matter of weighty discussion in the highest courts of the land.

As it is, little moment attaches to the issue whether it belongs outright to the federal government or is a state possession of California. That Santa Catalina, with its length of 22 miles, its width of 7 1/2 miles and its area of 55,000 acres, is included in the United States territory is beyond dispute. Spanish mariners discovered the island. It became a part of the Mexican domain and by Mexico was ceded to the United States along with Alta California and all the great southwestern sovereignty. Mexico styled Santa Catalina a part of California, and the new possessor of both did not disturb the unity. It is doubtful if any one thought enough about the island to care where it went, and today it appears strange that Mexico did not retain the bit of water surrounded mountain. Farther to the south, opposite San Diego and only 15 miles from land, are the Coronado Islands, which are still held in Mexico.

SUGARLOAF ROCK, AVALON BAY.

Years ago James Lick, whose name is perpetuated by the Lick observatory, bought the island for a few thousand dollars. At that he did not make a profit on his investment. No animals but sheep or the equally industrious wild goats can get a living from the canyons and mountain sides of Catalina, and sheep farming was not then a California industry. Lick hoped, it is generally believed, that there might be deposits of minerals in the mountains; but, whatever the amount of prospecting he caused to be done, certainly there were no returns.

When Lick died, his executors found the island an incumbrance on their hands, and they got rid of it as soon as they could. It passed through several hands before it came into the possession of its present owners, the Banning brothers.

Prior to the existing regime the poetic name of Avalon had been given to the chief landing place of the island, the name extending also to the bay which laps in between two projecting hills and forms the harbor.

The Bannings bought the island—paying, it is said, $30,000—for a two-fold purpose, as a monster sheep farm and as a prospective summer resort. In a few years they had two steamers running between San Pedro, the seaport town of Los Angeles, and Avalon, had constructed a hotel and had covered the island with flocks of sheep.

Interest about Avalon, however, centers more in its peculiarities of administration than in its merits as an abiding place. Avalon is under the literal jurisdiction of "bosses" who own it. The only sign of the indefinite Los Angeles county supremacy is found in the presence of a notary public, and rumor says that he is supported by the proprietors of the island. His fees would not keep him in Mexican cigarettes.

There is not a lawyer on the island, not a justice of the peace and no jail. Vital, several saloons are open from dawn until midnight. Disturbances, however, are rare. The rule, which rings order is simplicity in itself. The proprietors maintain a constabulary, enlisted from their employees. Disturbances of the peace are not fined or imprisoned. They are punched into submission and banished.

Avalon is the headquarters of the United States Tuna Club, whose president gains his place by virtue of catching the biggest fish. When a member brings in a trophy surpassing in weight the fish through which the resident has acquired his office, there is an immediate reversal in rank.

WOMAN'S POSITION IN EGYPT.

Some Discoveries About a Queen of Ancient Times.

In Egypt some most interesting details about the position of women have recently been unveiled by the Egyptian exploration fund, which has cleared out and set up again as far as possible the temple of Hatsheput, which is on the other side of the Nile from the great and famous temple of Thebes. Much trouble was given to the explorers in the first instance by two circumstances. One was that this great queen invariably had herself represented in the state costume of a king—that is to say, with the square false beard and singular head-dress and skirt which may be seen upon the royal figures reproduced in pictures; the other was that her successor meanly and elaborately erased, all over the temple and where else he could find it, her portrait and her cartouche, or special signature. But by degrees a wonderful personality has been unveiled. It is found that this magnificent temple was erected by a queen who, like Elizabeth, maintained herself in power until her death, although she was during the whole time menaced by innumerable foes, and her throne was sought by a person of very great ability and energy—Thotmes III, that same stepson who, after her death, avenged upon her images the success which she had over him during her life. Her remarkable character is shown not only by her achievements, both in building and in sending expeditions for trade to parts unknown, but also by the fact that her father, Thotmes II, a notably able ruler, chose her to share his throne during his lifetime, although he had at least one son living. The portraits unveiled in this temple by the Egyptian exploration fund show a very noble type of female face, with a broad brow, a large nose and a singularly sweet expression of the mouth. Owing to the jealous destructions of Thotmes III, it is not quite certain that this was the portrait of Hatsheput, but it is at any rate a singularly interesting delineation of some Egyptian woman of high importance, being taken from the walls of Hatsheput's temple, Ded-el-Bahri—Philadelphia Times.

IS THE LEAST OF MANY EVILS.

Tobacco is Not as Harmful as Any Other Article Used for Smoking.

Science has calculated that an average puff of cigar smoke sets free over 2,000,000,000 tiny particles, a whiff from a pipe liberates over 1,800,000,000 of these particles and one from a cigarette starts 2,900,000,000 of them flying through the surrounding atmosphere. A very curious fact concerning tobacco smoke is the remarkable change in color which it undergoes after entering the mouth. From the burning end of a cigar the smoke issues in deep blue threads, while that which is expelled from the mouth is of a decidedly brownish tint. This difference is to be accounted for by the fact that the minutest particles have an intense affinity for moisture. When tobacco smoke is drawn into the mouth its smallest particles are immediately detached from the rest by the presence of moist surfaces, to which they fly and lodge. Besides particles, smoke contains several gases, and vapors. Though Sir Walter Raleigh won his famous wager with Queen Elizabeth, he took no account of these when he attempted to show her the weight of the final ashes from that of the unburnt cigar, and his demonstration would not hold good with any scientist to-day. It has often been quoted that a grain of nicotine, administered all at once, would kill the strongest dog, and from this have been argued its terrible effects on the body of a human being. While this statement is undoubtedly true, it is somewhat misleading. In order to commit suicide by smoking, the dog would have to consume 400 strong cigars, one right after the other. He could put himself out of the world much more easily by eating the boxes. Whatever the ill effects of tobacco when used to excess, in moderation it acts on an adult as a mild sedative. It is claimed that after the thirtieth year its uses prolong life and preserves the mind by lessening the bodily functions of waste and repair. Experts say that for smoking, tobacco is one of the least injurious substances known. Compared with other well-known vegetable substances used for the same purpose, tobacco is very mild. Opium, without doubt, is most fearful in its effects, for the drunkenness it produces ultimately unbalances the mind. Next to opium, its power are certain kinds of grasses, notable among which is hemp, which causes intoxication and anaesthesia.

Stand Up to Fit a Shoe.

"People would find much less difficulty with ready-made shoes," said an experienced salesman, "if they would stand up to fit them on instead of sitting down. Nine persons out of ten, particularly women, want a comfortable chair while they are fitting a shoe, and it is with the greatest difficulty you can get them to stand for a few minutes, even after the shoe is fitted. Then, when they began walking about, they wonder why the shoes are not so comfortable as they were at first trial. Exercise brings a larger quantity of blood into the feet and they swell appreciably. The muscles also require certain space. In buying shoes this fact should be borne in mind."

Lake of Ink.

It is said that there is a small lake near a volcano in Southern California which contains a liquid as black as ink, not at all resembling water. This liquid dyes cotton cloth permanently black.

Catarrh is Not Incurable

But it can not be cured by sprays, washes and inhaling mixtures which reach only the surface. The disease is in the blood, and can only be reached through the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which can have any effect upon Catarrh; it cures the disease, permanently and forever rids the system of every trace of the vile complaint.

Miss Josie Owen, of Montpelier, Ohio, writes: "I was afflicted from infancy with Catarrh, and no one can know the suffering it produces better than I. The sprays and washes prescribed by the doctors relieved me only temporarily, and though I used them constantly for ten years, the disease had a firmer hold than ever. I tried a number of blood remedies, but their mineral ingredients settled in my bones and gave me rheumatism. I was in a lamentable condition, and after examining all treatments, was declared incurable. Seeing S. S. S. advertised as a cure for blood diseases, I decided to try it. As soon as my system was under the effect of the medicine, I began to improve, and after taking it for two months I was cured completely. The dreadful disease was eradicated from my system, and I have had no return of it."

Many have been taking local treatment for years, and find themselves worse now than ever. A trial of ## Photographing Convicts.

After a convict has served out his time in the state prison of Maine and has donned the suit of clothes given to him by the state he is required to sit for his photograph, and it is kept for future use, should his subsequent career call for it. Heretofore only the picture taken upon commitment has been kept and this has often been found of little avail in later years.

Around the World in a Month.

When the trans-Siberian railroad is finished we shall be able to make the "tour du monde" in thirty-three days. According to the Russian minister of roads and communications the itinerary will be: Bremen to St. Petersburg by rail, one and one-half days; St. Petersburg to Vladivostok, by rail, ten days; thence to San Francisco by steamer, ten days; thence to New York, by rail, four and a half days, and back to Bremen, by sea, seven days. Perhaps some "Phineas Fogg" will do it in a month. At present the shortest route from Southampton, by Paris, Brindisi, Yokohama, San Francisco and New York is sixty-six days.

VERY FINE! "It's really very good," is the opinion of every discriminating man who first samples

OLD UNDEROOF RYE.

It is well known that the blending of whiskeys is a special art, understood by few—an art that cannot be learned except by practical experiment extending over long years. The whiskeys selected for the famous Old Underoof combination are each and all chosen for some acknowledged superiority peculiar to each distillation. By being stored in charred-oak barrels for many years its mellowness is refined. Guaranteed entirely free from all artificial color or flavor. Our reputation is staked on this.

LET US LOVE, NOT LICENSE

Well, well, well! read this:

Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 30—Attorney Walter M. Cowell has drawn an ordinance which will be presented to the council at its next meeting, which will probably cause a great deal of discussion, especially among women. Its object is to prevent women riding bicycles on the streets of Kenosha unless they are duly licensed by a commission appointed by the mayor. The ordinance provides:

That on and after the passage and publication of this ordinance, it shall be unlawful for any female to engage in the riding of any bicycle or velocipede on any street, alley or other public thoroughfare within the corporate limits of the city of Kenosha without having first obtained from the city clerk of said city of Kenosha a license which shall be issued under the following circumstances:

That said female shall appear before the clerk of said city of Kenosha and shall be examined by a competent commission as to her ability to ride such a vehicle without endangering the safety and personal rights of other citizens of the city.

The price of the license is fixed at 25 cents and the fine for violation is $10 or fifteen days in jail.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 30—City officials are deeply interested in the ordinance presented to the Kenosha city council requiring women cyclists to pass a test in riding, and give bond to cover damages that may be caused by their use of the wheel. The subject is one the police and legal departments have had under consideration for some time. The opinion prevails that women riders enjoy riding too much to be freed, and disposition is strongly entertained to limit, if not to prohibit, their indulgence in cycling.

"I am deeply impressed with the advantages of the Kenosha ordinance," said Chief of Police Kipley today. "The inconvenience resulting to the general public from the use of wheels by women and children, admitting they may derive a physical benefit and pleasure from the same, certainly presents a question for council legislation. I have no doubt many men hastening to and from their daily labors in the city are delayed by women cyclists. This same question enters into the rights and privileges of scorches. By all means let us clear the boulevards and streets and give the man an opportunity to use the bicycle to his greatest advantage. The Kenosha ordinance is certainly worthy of consideration."

What new devilry is this?

Shall we license woman? Perish the thought! We will love her instead, buy her the chainless bikes, and eke the buzzing automobile!

Hats off to the women, and in the defense of her—and her bike—

"Lay on McDuff, and damn'd be he who first shall call enough!"

Kenosha Gazette—The Eau Claire Leader makes a groan that will find response in most newspaper offices at the amount of free advertising that is asked for now-a-days for all the races, and fairs and expositions and pow-wows in the country. Every newspaper's mail is full of opportunities to fill its columns with this sort of gratuitous booming of other people's schemes, almost every day. The thing for the newspapers is not to do it.

Harry Hynes, the man who was sent to the House of Correction in Milwaukee for impersonating a woman, has only himself to blame. The growth of beard on his face was responsible for his detection, and he could have escaped, by a close shave, just as well as not.

The war department has decided to issue commissions in the volunteer army only to veterans of the Spanish American war. This ruling has barred out many applicants who had excellent recommendations, but it is just, nevertheless, in every way.

Brick pavement is very popular in Chicago. Fifty-two streets were recently ordered paved and brick will be used on more than half of them, the others being paved with granite, cedar block, or asphalt.

John R. McLean, owner of monopolies, is the democratic candidate for governor of Ohio, and will run on an anti-trust platform! In this case, "anti-trust" seems to mean "cash in advance."

The political wire pullers are to be complimented for one thing, however—they generally lay their wires underground.

The Ohio democratic platform is of a character that entitles the party to a new name—anticrats.

Prof. Herron of an Iowa college, calls President McKinley a traitor. Herron is well named, for like the bird of similar lar cognomen, he runs more to neck and legs than he does to head.

A man who claims to hail from Rock county may succeed in passing himself off as a woman in Milwaukee, but he can't do it at home. Rock county women are not of that stamp.

The fact that Dreyfus' toes "have now split into factions, and show suspicion of one another" is in no way remarkable. Why shouldn't they?

The hunting season opened today and the unloaded gun is now engaged in its deadly work.

Perhaps the thermometer regulates the coal market. Both are going up.

Oysters are ripe.

A Movable Feast.

The bicycle enthusiast is particularly remembered in this instance. The plan is for four or five (who live sufficiently far apart to warrant riding between meal stations and yet not so far that the pangs of starvation will ensue) to arrange a coarse luncheon, at the first house being given cold conchome with wafers, at the second lobster cutlets and peas, at the third a bird or broiled chicken with potato chips, at the fourth salad, crackers and cheese, at the fifth ices and black coffee. It is really great fun to eat and ride away, and no one knows until they have tried it how much better each separate course tastes taken in this manner. The trouble of each individual hostess, too, is reduced to a minimum, while the credit of a pleasant entertainment rests equally upon all taking part in it.

Hot Men-of-War.

I heard months ago that the hottest ship in the fleet around Cuba was the St. Paul—not her upper works, but down in the hold. But she was not a marker to the Cincinnati, in whose hold temperatures as high as 205 degrees were registered. In one of the firerooms was located a forced draft blower to which it was impossible to give proper attention on account of the intense heat. When Capt. Chester went below to investigate he had his face scorched. Water boils at 212 degrees.—New York Press.

Urged to Support the King.

Berlin, Sept. 1.—Chancellor von Hohenlohe has issued an edict to all the chief presidents of the provinces of Prussia, who are mostly against the canal measures, telling them that it is their whole duty to support the king. He says they have no right on the ground of personal opinion to fetter the action of the government. Such conduct is opposed to all the traditions of the Prussian government.

Industrial Trust Company.

New York, Sept. 1.—The Industrial Trust Company of America, which is to have a $10,000,000 capital and which is being got into shape by Charles R. Flint and his associates, is said to be about ready to take legal form. Finland's Last Chance Gone.

Stockholm, Sept. 1.—It is announced that the emperor of Russia has appointed Privy Councillor de Plehne minister-secretary of state for Finland at St. Petersburg. This post has always been held hitherto by a Finn, so the grand duchy thus loses its last chance of reaching the ear of the czar through the person of a Finnish citizen.

Grain-O Brings Relief

to the coffee drinker. Coffee drinking is a habit that is universally injurious. Have you tried Grain-O? It is almost like coffee, but the effects are just the opposite. Coffee upsets the stomach and ruins the digestion, affects the heart and disturbs the whole nervous system. Grain-O tones up the stomach, aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. There is nothing but nourishment in Grain-O. It can't be otherwise 15 and 25c per package.

GEN. LEE'S PLANS FOR CUBA.

Suggests Independence Under an American Protectorate.

WOULD RETAIN THE TROOPS.

Southern Veteran Responds to a Call from Washington Authorities for His Views on the Needs of the People—Census Should Be Taken.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Gen. Fitzhugh Lee has made an elaborate report on prevailing conditions in the territory in Cuba under his jurisdiction, and takes strong ground for an independent government for the Cubans under an American protectorate.

The war department in March directed the commanders of departments in Cuba to make a report on the conditions in their several sections and to accompany it with recommendations as to the treatment of the natives. Gen. Lee is the only commander who has responded. He begins his report by stating conditions in Havana and Pinar del Rio provinces are making rapid progress toward a state of peace, good order and prosperity. His report in this respect is very gratifying, indicating as it does that there is not as much suffering from want of food as is often asserted in unofficial reports.

Turning to recommendations, Gen. Lee urges the taking of a census as a first step toward the establishment of self-government. He thinks the next step should be the careful consideration of the question of suffrage for the Cubans. He takes it for granted there will be elections by the natives, and he points out the importance of wise action in determining the qualifications of voters.

He recommends an independent republican government, with a president, a vice-president and a congress. He would have this established soon, and advises the holding of a general election for the selection of those officers. He says nothing about a constitution, leaving it to be inferred that he either overlooked that step or would have it left to the Cuban congress to provide after its installation in office. In this connection he lays stress upon the need of a system of jurisprudence suitable for an independent government and so guarded as to secure justice to the people.

Gen. Lee evidently foresees that while the United States might provide Cuba with a model system of government the natives would be likely to spoil it in the administration, and he has submitted suggestions for keeping the government machinery running along lines that commend themselves to the American mind. He says the United States should keep a strict supervision over Cuba until its republican government is completed and firmly established.

Even after relieving the Cubans in part of American protection he would have United States troops maintained in the island to protect Americans and other aliens in the enjoyment of their personal and property rights.

All Will Hold to Samoa.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 1.—Chief Justice William L. Chambers of Samoa arrived here Thursday en route to Washington to discuss the affairs of the island with Secretary Hay. He has been at his home in Alabama for several weeks. In speaking of Samoa Mr. Chambers said: "My own opinion is that annexation of the islands by one of the treaty powers is the only solution. And as none appears to be willing to give way to the others, every diplomatic expedient will be resorted to to continue the present arrangement."

Clay Evans, commissioner of pensions, shows that during the year there were added to the pension roll 40,229 names and 43,185 were dropped, 34,345 of these by reason of death. There were expended for pensions $138,355,052. The annual value of the entire pension roll amounts to $131,517,961, being $849,486 more than it ever was, due to the higher average annual value of pensions. The roll is made up of 753,451 surviving soldiers, 237,415 widows and dependent relatives and 653 nurses. The total number of original applications filed during the year, including those on account of the war with Spain, was 48,765.

Would Buy Astor Property.

Mr. Levy is now in London, whence the information of his offer for the William Waldorf Astor holdings comes in a private cable dispatch. Mr. Levy will sail for New York next week, and his friends here hope that he will bring with him a definite reply from Mr. Astor.

Sleep and Heat Prostration.

The first essential for enduring hot weather spells is to get plenty of sleep. There is eminent medical authority for the statement that heat prostrations are due much more to the exhaustion incident to insufficient sleep on successive hot nights than to the actual intensity of the daily heat. Anything that deprives us of our sleep ought to be shunned during the heated season.

There can be nothing better for backache, nervousness, sleeplessness and all ailments arising from kidney disorders than Morrow's KID-NE-IDS. It is impossible to manufacture a better remedy. Duri g the continuance of my troubles I have experimented with kidney pills and other kidney remedies but did not get any relief until I used Morrow's Kid-ne-ids. In a very short time I was greatly relieved. I continued to take Kid-ne-ids and I am being relieved of all my former troubles very rapidly. I think Kid-ne-ids a splendid remedy for kidney troubles."

Woman's World

Beauty and elegance have become common things where fashion congregates. The proof of this lies in the fact that gowns pass our notice now without so much as leaving an impression which formerly we would have thought, models of luxury, and it requires something quite out of the common to arrest attention and excite comment. The present season is quickly fretting out its little hour and has reached the period where little that is new is to be noted in the kingdom of fashion; what is is, and few changes occur worth noting.

White taffeta, indeed, is high in the regard of the leaders of dress at present; tunics and polonaises of taffeta are much worn over underskirts and bodices of lace, caught at the waist by a clasp or button, and they are minutely tucked all over till the silk looks as if corded. On bodices this tucking is often advantageous, for the present close fitting, unadorned style does not suit too slender figures, and the tucking gives roundness without taking away from the fit.

A touch of black is the acme of smartness on light gowns, but another idea is a chow of shaded pausy velvet, from light to dark, on the left side of the bodice, or a yellow chow, from delicate maize to rich orange. The idea is to give a strong dash of color somewhere.

Sleeves are being made with a band of three tucks round the armhole, so as to keep them quite flat and yet give a little relief to the severe outlines which not every shoulder can do with. A sloping shoulder line is once more an accepted standard of beauty.

One of the latest forms of trimming resolves itself into a threading of black velvet or ribbon, through the material itself or the embroidery. This may be gathered from the accompanying sketches, the first two gowns both being threaded in this manner. The one on the left has a tunic of mauve taffeta, completely covered with narrow tucks, fastened with large strass buttons. The revers and underskirt, of ecru guipure, are slashed with black velvet. The other gown is in pastel rose voile, the tunic having a large semiloose double plait of cream lace, with black ribbon passed in and out. Narrow tucks edge the tunic, which is fringed with black silk.

The second group of sketches consists of a dress of ecru guipure over white voile, the tunic fastening down the right side with a laced ribbon velvet. The yoke is draped round the shoulders fashio fashion with black mousseline de soie. The overdress in the second figure is laced down with silk cord and edged with fringe. The shoulder drapery is in two shades of silk muslin.

Many Parisian models have a long, fluffy scarf or shoulder drapery in chiffon or mousseline, even cloth gowns being treated with this fluff-like style. Formerly we should have considered such a mixture of the severe and the frivolous, the thick and the thin, as incongruous and out of keeping, but incongruity is not now in the dictionary of fashion.

Already the tide of the eel skin skirts is turning, and a refreshing fullness appears on many of the leading Parisian models. Many bear witness to actual fulling at the back. Some have little tucks about 3 inches in length in the center of the back, from which the skirt sets out in graceful folds. Having assisted joyfully at the birth of the tight skirt, the Parisians are now prepared to do equal honor to its obese. Soft black dowing skirts, with blouses, are extremely fashionable.

LATEST LINGERIE.

Clever Parisian Variations of Two Important Garments.

To meet the demand of the luxury loving and prompt paying American the Parisians set the pace in undergarments and do all their labor of construction by hand, but our own manufacturers follow their lead so closely and admirably in machine wrought pieces that it is really a matter more of sentiment than worth that dictates the purchase of the French article.

On both sides of the water the effort is always tending toward a reconciliation between excessive graceful daintiness, that every woman demands, and precautions against bulkiness, that no woman can allow. Turn over a heap of garments all fresh from Paris, and you will find that, though silk is so slightly used in their make up, none save the petticoats perhaps but will run through the circle of a thumb ring.

Everywhere that an inch of goods might be pruned away the artist's scissors have sliced to good effect, and with no loss in the charm of the garment. For example, all chemises are sloped to fit the figure like a glove. The newest French pattern shows a novel arrangement by which a tiny side body is introduced under the arm and the seam so skillfully manipulated that it can never act as an irritating cause against tender flesh. To obviate any awkwardness in getting in and out of such a chemise the long slip either buttons or ties on the shoulders, or is opened down the front well below the waist line, and this delicate garment is shuffled off as easily as a pinfore.

In taking away from the chemise about the waist line the skirt length has been increased. The long chemise has logically done away with that absurd little exotic in the feminine wardrobe, the short petticoat. She who wears a silk undervest is in comfort bound to adopt a brief tunic under her silk or cambric undershirt, and, though by this device she pares away some bulk at the bust and shoulder line, she doubles the thickness at her waist and hips. With the tight fitting, long skirted chemise the fattest of women gets all the relief she deserves and carries two undergarments instead of three.

Right at the top and bottom all the chemise decoration is done. Some of them are long enough to reach half way to the ankle and have their edges cut in deep vandykes or scallops or wedged shaped tabs, and then to these are applied little wailets of lace.

Camisole, cache corset or underbody, call that garment what you will, but do not give it any length below the waist line. The prettiest and most useful styles are made in bolero and handkerchief shape, and an exceedingly recent invention in this line is cut to fold fishwise, but perfectly flat, over the shoulders, across the bust, and, passing under the arms, the ends of it fasten by two flat pearl buttons in the center of the back. Those that button, orthodox fashion, down the front are cut off sharply at the waist, a broad embroidered beading serves as a belt, and through this a ribbon is run for beauty's sake, says the New York Sun, from whose summary of this year's attractions in underwear the illustrations and present fashions are reproduced.

The Gray Felt Hat.

The popularity of the gray felt hat is perhaps accounted for because, according to the New York Sun, "it gives young women an opportunity to express their feelings. It meant nothing if they wore bangs and allowed their sailor hats to slip back from their foreheads. A Tam O'Shanter, supposed to give some impression of carelessness and indifference, would not do because it was worn by women of all ages. Turning up her coat collar was unbecoming to a girl and likely to make her coat set badly. It was not until the soft gray hat turned down in front was as accessible to young women as it was to young men that they were able to express their moods in the same way. Every summer resort is this year filled with these soft gray hats on heads of both sexes."

VOLUNTEERS LEAVE MANILA.

Gen. Otis Notifies War Department of Their Sailing.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Gen. Otis has informed the war department of the departure from Manila of the transport Para in the following dispatch: "Para sailed to-day; fourteen officers, forty-one enlisted men and 924 discharged men; six civilians."

Another dispatch from Gen. Otis gives the dates of the sailing of the transports now at Manila and which will bring all the state volunteers in the Philippines to this country. The cable says: "Tartar sails Sept. 3; Pennsylvania, Sept. 5; Newport and Ohio, Sept. 7."

The state volunteers yet remaining in the Philippines in the order in which they left San Francisco for Manila are: First Washington, Twentieth Kansas, Third Tennessee, Fifty-first Iowa, troop Nevada cavalry, First Wyoming battery.

It is the policy of the war department to have the troops return in the order in which they sailed, and these volunteers probably will come on the ships named in the same order.

REBELS DRIVEN INTO HILLS.

Philippines Who Ambushed Soldiers Forced to Flee.

Manila, Sept. 1.—Dispatches just received from Cebu announce that the American troops under Col. Bayless, with two field pieces, sailed Monday into the hills against a band of natives who recently ambushed four of our soldiers and who have been generally troublesome. The American force found the natives entrenched and drove them from their trenches farther into the hills. There were no casualties on the American side, though there were some heat prostrations. The natives' loss is not known.

The United States cruiser Charleston landed men, who guarded the city during the absence of the troops.

The Season For . . . Michigan Plums

Is drawing to a close and the fancy goods which we are handling will be difficult to obtain after this week.
